

Attention High School Teachers!

Join the Cleveland Museum of Art and Cuyahoga County Public Libraries for a 90-minute workshop on art, poetry, and technology. Discover how you can incorporate videoconference technology into your classroom and how a program called SLAM IT! will teach your students about the connection between art and poetry while using this technology.

Choose a workshop to attend:
Saturday, March 11, 11:00–12:30
Wednesday, March 15, 4:00–5:30

SLAM IT! is a chance for poetry lovers to improve their writing and performing skills. This free program for teens will provide them with the opportunity to:

- Join an e-community of teen poets
- Get published and contribute to a CD
- Meet and learn from area poets
- Post their work to the e-community
- Compete in poetry slams

Locations

@ Maple Heights Regional Branch
5225 Library Lane
Maple Heights, Ohio 44137
216-475-5000

@ Mayfield Regional Branch
6080 Wilson Mills Road
Mayfield Village, Ohio 44143
440-473-0350

For more information and to register, contact Lenaia Burbank at 216-707-6896 or email at lburbank@clevelandart.org

Bringing art and poetry together

SLAM IT!

Featured Poet Presenters:

KELLY HARRIS A member of the 2003 Cleveland Slam Team, winner of the Wendy L. Moore Emerging Artist Award and student of the Fine Arts Work Center.

MICHAEL SALINGER 20 years of experience in performing and teaching poetry, five time captain and coach of the Cleveland Slam team, and author of They call it Fishing not Catching.

THE CLEVELAND
MUSEUM OF ART

Cuyahoga County
Public Library

INSTITUTE of Museum and Library SERVICES

40 Years
Ohio Arts Council

Guardian Figure: Nio, 1200s. Japan, Shiga prefecture, Kamakura period (1185–1336).
Wood: chestnut and cypress; h. 167.9 cm. Bequest of Leonard C. Hanna Jr. 1972.158.1